THE BEAUTY OF FOCAL POINT POTS

Sometimes even we can't believe the beauty of the pots that we have been fortunate to acquire for our customers. Their unique shapes, styles, colors and textures often inspire gardeners to achieve more beautiful gardens. As a renowned designer once said, "Great containers have everything to do with good design." This designer must have had Campania in mind.

With its graceful shape, bronze-jade glaze, and considerable size, the Barolo pot is a knockout, zero maintenance focal point pot. The shimmer of metallic bronze will add reflective sparkle to a shady spot. Imagine this art pot surrounded with hostas, heucheras and Japanese painted ferns. Simply stunning.

limestone and other stone often used in Oklahoma.

Another container with a simple design that makes it a graceful classic is the Siros in antique terra cotta. This terra cotta is high-fired to make it durable in winter weather. Unplanted, the Siros is a gorgeous focal point pot for many situations in the garden. Antique terra cotta blends well with

Those who love blue love this Lira pot, the perfectly gorgeous companion for flowers with blue tones, including lavender-blue pansies in early spring, and blue plumbago later in the season. It is a perfect color echo for cobalt blue pool tiles. Another design option: turn this pot into a fountain and watch the water flow over the falling blue glaze for years to come. Instant serenity.

We grabbed these special pots the first moment we saw them; they have an interesting netlike pattern and a complex glaze that allows a bit of aqua to show through. They would be an incredible pair balancing each side of an important doorway or entry into a garden; planting not even necessary.

Our Campania pots, whether cast stone or glazed terra cotta, are trend setting and made with superior quality. All have proven to be durable in our winter weather and even through large hail storms. We appreciate the opportunity to offer real art in the garden through fine garden accessories.

FRESH PICKED FOR MOM

Protect your sweet mom's delicate skin from the sun's rays while looking great in her favorite color. These hats are the greatest! Made of top quality grosgrain ribbon, they are washable and packable. You can roll them up and squash them into a suitcase or pocket, they don't care!

A very pretty Mother's Day gift, fluffy square and rectangular pillows; flowers, birds, butterflies, and stripes in bright colors will perk up a chair or a spring loveseat. Mix several together for an exuberant, updated look. Pillows are printed on polyester fabric from artists' paintings, more art for the garden! Covers zip off for laundering.

Give mom this darling tabletop fountain topped with chubby little birds. It brings the soothing sound of trickling water up close in an easy to use size that will fit anywhere. Fill with water and plug into a grounded outlet, enjoy!

Good statuary is a lasting gift. The original model for each of these molds is handcarved by an artist at Campania's Pennsylvania headquarters.

There is a statuary piece for every personality, from cute butterball bunnies to Zen frogs and sweet birds.

Speaking of birds, the real ones need birdbaths for a regular supply of clean water for drinking and bathing, and they are sculptural art for the garden. Birdbaths attract birds; birds bring life and music to the garden. Small or large, birdbaths can be tucked in under a tree almost anywhere.

Every garden needs at least one.

Wind chimes add the soothing sound of music in the garden. Hand-crafted in America and beautifully hand-tuned with pleasing tones and resonance, these chimes are a welcome garden feature. Their chiming, like the sounds of nature, will take you to a simpler time, a more peaceful place.

New! This flatware has melamine handles with darling mixed designs of dots, flowers and stripes. They pair wonderfully with red, white, or blue melamine solids or patterns. These are very attractive for informal dining indoors or outside.

Last but not least, a piece of glass art by Margaret Joplin. MOM in cast glass will look lovely anywhere, indoors or outside in a special garden spot.
